

The People of Lost Heritage: Restoring the Spirit of our Ancestors

The Vision of the People of Lost Heritage Restoring the Spirits of our Ancestors, is the first volume of what can grow into one of the leading resources, in discovering the movers and shakers in the African American communities. Bringing to light what was the inspiration and motivation that helped others to win their battles, be it a personal drive, fueled by anger or compassion. Or simply deciding to be all they could be because they could and as a citizen of the human race understanding that it was their right. The People of Lost Heritage, brings recognition to the source of which many African Americans, personal achievements are not accomplished on their own merit, but by their faith in God, close friends who prayed and gave freely of themselves and their resources and to have a respect not to let those that labored before them go in vain. If anything the vision for this book and other volumes to follow will not only to motivate black America, but will create a dialog between other cultures stimulating rational thought concerning the school of life. Finally, to create a forum bringing the African American community together, to grow in harmony amongst themselves then with other communities, for if we dont demonstrate compassion and respect for ourselves then others will not either. Our past is behind us but if we choose to forget it, we then choose to lessen the many sacrifices made by our ancestors. We want you to be able to interact with the contexts of this book, answering the questions found inside. With a friend a group or by yourself, discussing these questions and discover your own uniqueness and some of the common interest that you share with others.
